"25 Years . . . Still Creating Peace"

The International Hour For Peace has been an integral part of Fort Collins New Years celebrations every one of the 24 years since its inception in 1986. This year's program will include folks who put together that very first Fort Collins event. They will share some very interesting stories!

All paths to peace are honored, both sacred and secular, and the program includes music, prayers, blessings, speakers, and information from a wide variety of local faith, peace and humanitarian groups, as well as the traditional John Randolph Price World Healing Meditation. The Meditation will be accompanied by beautiful harp music from Michael Riversong, head of the Tesla Academy.

Spiritual paths represented include Buddhism, Judaism, Islam, Vedanta, Hindu, Sufism, Native American, Unity, Religious Science, Catholicism, Bahá'i, Protestant Christianity, Unitarian Universalist, Goddess Religion, Lightwork(ers), and Abraham/Hicks teachings. The altar will include symbols of many different faiths.

The information tables will have flyers, pamphlets, etc. about local peace and humanitarian organizations, events and activities. Our goal is for people to not only gather to pray for and focus on World Peace and Inner Peace during that magical hour, but to also find practical ways to create and practice peace all year long.
